EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::AUGUST 11.

GEORGIA STATE PRESS CONVENTION.—A convention of the newspaper press of the State of Georgia, will be held in Atlanta, on Tuesday, August the 24th, and it is respectfully and urgently desired that every newspaper in the State be represented. The Convention will assemble at eleven o'clock.

☞ See Fourth Page.

HOWELL COBB.—We give up a large portion of our space, this evening, to the tribute of our Supreme Court to the memory of our deceased statesman, Howell Cobb.

Our words can add nothing to what is there so well said. It is impossible to estimate how much such a man impressed the age in which he lived. Howell Cobb, living, was a power, and what is better, a good as well as a great power. Dead, his memory is a State treasure, and his example a shining beacon.

We reverently bow to his worth, and turn with sadness to the duties of busy life, that he once so luminously adorned, and whose highest excellence he so splendidly illustrated.

☞ Commissioner Delano, says that Assessors can look into incomes, and see if the government gets its legitimate percentage.

☞ The New York Tribune says, the Mobile riot was a Rebel outrage on the blacks.

Of course!

☞ The American Dental Association is in session at Saratoga. Horner Judd, of St. Louis is President.

Cuba.

The revolution in Cuba still progresses favorably.

The Spanish army has 32 000 regulars. 36 000 volunteers, and 3000 Guardias Civiles—total 71 000. The Cubans have 25,000, of which 6 000 are well armed, the rest badly. They have but little cannon, munitions, and need clothing and medicines.

The Spaniards admit a loss of 11 000, the Cubans, 9 000.

Cholera and yellow fever are abating.

Cuffee.

A writer in Columbia, S. C., signing himself "Bolse," and "our own correspondent," writes thus frankly to the New York Times. Surely, such light as this, honestly accredited, ought to rectify public opinion North as to our political condition:

"The fact is, and it is a melancholy one for us who desire good for the colored race, that the negro is so utterly the slave of his passions, and so utterly destitute of judgment and foresight, that no calculation can be made upon him—no foresight can predict what he will do to-morrow. He may turn next to stab the white Democrat, or the white Republican, or the black Democrat, or the white carpet-bagger, irrespective of his politics. He can forget race, blood, politics, oaths of leagues, religion, his promise—anything and everything—under some temporary excitement. He wants the stability to act with consistency; and this comes of the character of his brain, not of the color of his skin.

Fish Culture.

At West Barnstable, Mass., there is a fish hatching establishment, started early in 1868.

The water consists of two fresh spring ponds, 40 by 20 feet each and 4 feet deep.

Trout are principally raised. There are 700 parent trout from one to three pounds weight. Over 60,000 have been hatched this year, besides 3,000 salmon. They are fed with live minnows, and shrimp, and chopped liver, codfish roe, etc. The bottoms of the ponds are flat stones, with mosses growing between.

The trout seeks shallow water to spawn; here they are removed into tubs to remove the ova from the female and impregnate it with the milt of the male. The fish is grasped in the hand and the abdomen gently rubbed. If the ova is mature, slight pressure extrudes it. The milt is taken from the male in the same way, and a little of it will impregnate thousands of eggs. The milt and ova are stirred together, and left five minutes, the ova then washed and put into the hatching troughs. The spawning time is from October to March, the principal months being November and December. One trout will spawn 1,000 eggs.

The ova are placed in troughs with a ground bottom in single layers, over which water at 48 degrees constantly passes, hatching in about fifty days. The hatched trout is three-quarters of an inch long, and lives for forty days more upon an umbilical sack attached to it.

THE SUPREME COURT
Does Honor to the Memory of
HOWELL COBB,
Georgia's Statesman, Jurist and Soldier.

ATLANTA, August 11, 1869.

The Committee appointed to report a suitable tribute to the memory of the late General Howell Cobb, beg leave to submit, that at a meeting of the Superior Court of Bibb county, and the Bar in attendance, at Macon, on the 30th November last, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted, to-wit:

General Howell Cobb, being on a visit to the North, with his wife and daughter, died in the city of New York on the 9th day of October last, at the age of fifty-three years. He was seized suddenly, was prostrated in a moment of time, and expired in a few minutes thereafter. A man of vigorous constitution, and until very recently, in the enjoyment of uninterrupted health, no one had a fairer promise of long life; and surrounded with numerous and devoted friends, and blessed with the sweetest and richest endearments of home and family—of a life of unmingled happiness. He was called hence without premonition. This providence, to our limited vision, looks strange; but we well know that it is not for us to sit in judgment upon the inscrutable events of the Divine Government. We believe that the all-wise and all-merciful Ruler ordereth all things well, and, therefore, it is our duty and privilege to acquiesce without a murmur in His dispensations. "Justice and Judgment are the habitation of Thy Throne; Mercy and Truth shall go before Thy Face." When the telegraph announced the death of our brother, thousands of people all over this broad land, and we among the number, felt that they had lost a loved and cherished personal friend. The country was stricken with awe and tremulousness. Sadness, and sorrow, and deep regrets fell upon all who knew him. We may not assume to speak of the effects of their great bereavement upon the family of the deceased. They have solved the mystery of unutterable grief. And yet, as we shall see, even they are not left to mourn as those who have no hope. It is a melancholy pleasure for us to honor the name and memory of Gen. Cobb. Alas! how melancholy? Still it is a pleasure. It is indeed pleasant to be enabled to place upon the records of this Court, our unanimous, cordial, unqualified testimony, to his genius and learning, his professional honor, his statesmanship, his patriotism, his kindness of heart, and his unrivalled social attractiveness. We lay this offering upon his tomb. It may be humble, but it expresses our affection and our respect for his character, as eloquently as would a monument carved in marble and emblazoned with gold.

Gen. Cobb was a native of Georgia, born of highly respectable and pious parents, in the county of Jefferson. He was graduated at the University of Georgia, during the Presidency of Dr. Church, in the class of 1834. Immediately after his graduation he commenced the study of law under the direction of Gen. Hardin, a most excellent gentleman of that ilk, and when admitted, at an early age, settled in the town of Athens, Clarke county. Very soon he acquired a good practice, both in his own county and in the circuit. For several years he held the office of Solicitor General of the Western Circuit, discharging its duties efficiently—zealous to convict the guilty, but forbearing towards the innocent.

Neither the sovereignty of the State nor the citizen suffered wrong at his hands. A brilliant career awaited him. With a commanding person, fine voice, conciliating address, industry, thorough furniture, and ardent, self-reliant and ambitious, he would have speedily reached the highest level of professional distinction. But a change came over the spirit of his dream, and like the most of the young men of that day who were conscious of intellectual power, he became enamoured of political life, and his aspirations in that direction were so promptly realized, that his profession became an object of secondary importance.

After the fall of the Confederate Government, he settled in the City of Macon, and resumed the practice. His success was equal to his most sanguine expectations; clients multiplied, and at his death he stood in the front rank of the Georgia Bar. Upon an occasion so solemn as this, it becomes us to say nothing for effect, and to indulge in no exaggeration; and we may, therefore, hope that our estimate of General Cobb, professionally and otherwise, will be taken as true and candid. He was not, in legal argument, a dealer in dull dusty cases, with little or no application to the point at issue. He was master of the principles of our noble science, and his acute discrimination and clear, vigorous judgment enabled him to apply them successfully. Nor did he rely upon them and his native originating power alone, but was wont to arm himself with authority, that latest authority which ruled the principle and most perspicuously illustrated it. His manner of argumentation was logical, without the stiff, cold, formality of scholasticism. Indeed, he was a natural logician—he knew well how to assume premises and draw conclusions, without the aid of the syllogism or the tricks of the sophist. Before the Court he had great power of condensation, and never weakened his cause by repetition or profuse elaboration. He was happy in the handling of facts before the jury, and skilful, though fair, in his statement of them—just to his adversary, earnest and persuasive, not unfrequently wielding at will both the convictions and the passions of the panel. In this connection, it may be proper to say that his eloquence found its happiest display before large popular assemblies. He was peculiarly at home at the hustings—there he achieved his most splendid triumphs, there he became regal. His clarion voice reached the ear of a great multitude, and his honest, amiable character reached their hearts.

Gen. Cobb's political career was not only successful, but exceedingly brilliant. He rose rapidly from one position to another, until he became a recognized leader of the great Democratic party of the American Union. This is not the occasion, nor ours the duty, to trace his ascending course. That responsible task will devolve upon the historian or biographer. Suffice it now to say, that before the war, he represented his district in Congress for a number of years; was Speaker of the House of Representatives; Governor of Georgia; and Secretary of the Treasury during Mr. Buchanan's administration. His political record may be said to be voluminous. In it there is not to be found a blot or a blur. Amidst all the violence of party warfare no one of his political opponents, however unscrupulous, was ever known to utter a word impugning his integrity as an officer, or his honor as a gentleman. The House of Representatives of the United States is a theatre, upon whose boards demagogues play for popularity—partisans for power—genius and eloquence for renown, and patriots for peace, order and good government. It is, therefore, often disorderly, and frequently tumultuous. To preside over such a body with acceptability, requires rare endowments—a thorough knowledge of men—quickness of perception—patience—self-control—firmness—a clear sense of justice—tact and impartiality. Especially is it necessary that the officer command the respect of the House. That is, in fact, the chief element of his authority. All these qualities our friend possessed in an eminent degree; and hence it was that no Speaker, since the time Mr. Clay, discharged the duties of the chair with more marked efficiency than did he. When the State seceded, having contributed as much to the result as any other citizen, he gave himself unconditionally to the cause of the South. He yielded to it all the honors which he had won under the Union, and consecrated to its success his name, his estate, and his life. He was elected a member of the Provisional Congress, and when it met was chosen its presiding officer. No body ever convened at the South was more able or more patriotic than this Congress. Party prepossessions, committals, animosities and creeds had no place in the deliberations of that august assembly. They could not live in an atmosphere charged with the sublime responsibilities of a stupendous revolution. A constitution was passed upon the basis of the principles of 1776, which was an improvement, as many believe, upon the Federal Constitution—laws were passed and officers chosen to administer them. The civil revolution was in a few weeks accomplished, and the new government moved forward with harmonious grandeur unparalleled in the annals of empire. To these ends no member contributed more than Gen. Cobb. His experience, profound knowledge of constitution liberty, and sound judgment, were all made available in that great crisis. He was also a member of the permanent Confederate Congress; but when the war began to rage, with its terrific foreshadowing of slaughter, poverty and the scaffold, he retired from the halls of legislation and joined the army; rising rapidly to the grade of Major General. In the military service he was ever prudent, obedient to rightful authority, gallant and energetic. When the Confederate Government—after sacrifices indescribable, and the display of heroism unimagined in the wildest dream of romance—fell, he concealed the fact of its extinction by overwhelming force, and acquiesced in the necessity of the surrender of its armies. Not only so, but he advised and urged the return of the Southern States to their former place in the Union. Uncomplainingly, and with quiet dignity, he retired to the walks of private life. We looked to him, in these latter-day troubles and in the contingencies of the future, as one of our wisest, safest advisors. We did well hope that he would live to be, as he ever had been, the champion of law and liberty. But he has passed "from gloom to glory," and his country has nothing left but the heritage of his fame and virtues.

Turn we now to contemplate him in his private character. A mere outline sketch is all that we are at liberty to appropriate to a theme to which a volume might well be devoted. Its necessary meagerness, however, does not make it otherwise than grateful. It is sometimes the case that eminent men, especially in political life, draw around them friends, from fear, or favor, or policy. Governor Cobb's friends became such from affection. It is believed that he left more personal friends than any man who has lived and died in the State. These admired him for his ability, but loved him for the kindness, generosity and nobility of his nature. These were attracted by his stern sense of justice—by his benevolence—his charity and his genial companionship. Had he been less distinguished, he would not have been less beloved. Political antagonism engendered no bitterness in his soul; rivalry created no hatred, and disappointment did not lessen his cheerfulness. Public life did not cool the warmth of his heart; and high position did not weaken in him the obligation of social duties. Nor was he capricious in his likings, but true and staunch, through evil and through good report. The lowly and the lofty alike, if meritorious, shared in his good offices and elicited his sympathy.

In the relations of husband, parent, brother and companion, he was a model man. His intercourse with his family was governed by the law of love.

As its head, he ruled with prudence and authority, but it was the authority of superior wisdom, united with forbearance, tenderness and assiduous attention. His wife and children alone know, and they only can tell, how sweet were the charities of their home.

The soldiers of his command during the war testify to his considerate attention. The poor, the suffering and dying, were always the object of his care and kindness. It has been represented by one occupying a high place, recently, that he visited, upon a sick and dying Federal prisoner, extreme and wanton cruelty. This charge has been conclusively disproved, but if it were not, we who knew him well, could not—would not believe it. It is contradicted by the whole tenor of his life, and by the unbroken course of our experience of his character. And, standing as we do, at the brink of his recently opened grave, we take the responsibility of saying, that the conduct attributed to him was utterly impossible.

Perhaps in nothing was the goodness of his heart more beautifully manifested, than in his attention to dependants. Some of the old and faithful servants, for example of the family. These he provided for and protected. Destitution and want always drew from him sympathy and supplies.

It remains to speak of his religious character. He never made a public profession of religion, but it is known to his intimate friends that he had made up his mind to unite with the Baptist Church, the Church of his parents and of his wife, upon his return this fall to Macon. In the judgment of those friends he died a Christian. And this is the hope that we trust, even now, mitigates the sorrow of his mourning family and relations, and will, ere long, reconcile them to his loss. He was a praying man for fifteen years before his death, according to his own account, but was harrassed with doubts about the divinity of the Saviour—that is, as to the Godhead dwelling in the humanity of Christ. He could not solve the mystery of Godliness, God manifest in the flesh, which the Scriptures themselves pronounce great. Unable to believe without a satisfactory comprehension of this fundamental truth of our holy religion, he did not, until lately, enjoy a sensible realization of pardon and peace. This kind of struggle of a strong mind to subject Revelation to the authority of reason is not uncommon. No doubt it is hard for one accustomed to think, analyze and understand, to become as a little child—a learner at the foot of the Cross. But subordinating his pride of intellect and pride of life to a simple effort of faith—and inspired by the Holy Spirit—a careful study of the Scriptures resulted in a sense of acceptance with God. He became the recipient of that purest, best and most sublime blessing ever vouchsafed to humanity—regeneration. And thus annointed, sanctified and accepted, his spirit entered rest—that rest which shall endure through eternal ages.

"O gracious God! not gainless is our loss;
A glorious sunbeam glides thy sternest frown;
And while his country staggers with the cross,
He rises with the crown."

Resolved, That this bar, his country, and his family, have sustained a great bereavement in the death of General Howell Cobb; that he was endeared to us by his manly, generous, cordial professional companionship and association; to his country by his sacrifices and services, and to his family by his tender affection, his considerate providence and wise counsels; that we deplore that one so dear to us and so full of the promise of future usefulness should be called hence in the full maturity of all his powers; satisfied, however, that our loss is great gain, we do not question the wisdom and mercy of God in transferring his spirit from earth to heaven.

Resolved, That our respectful sympathy and condolence are hereby tendered to his family.

Resolved, That this Committee adopt the form of their report upon the present occasion, and request that they be entered upon the minutes of this Court, and a copy be transmitted to the family of Gen. Cobb by the clerk.

CHIEF JUSTICE BROWN MADE THE FOLLOWING REMARKS.

Gentlemen of the Bar: In behalf of the Court I submit the following reply to your report and resolutions:

General Howell Cobb was no ordinary man. His name will occupy a large space in the history of the country, and the times in which he lived. Richly endowed, by nature, with intellectual strength, which had been developed and cultivated in a very high degree, he was eminently fitted for the many responsible positions, which, by the free suffrage of his countrymen, he was called to fill. To great ability and force of character, were added, industry and energy, forming a combination which seldom fails to achieve success.

General Cobb was admitted to the Bar, at an early age, as stated in your report, and commenced the active duties of life, as a Lawyer, in the Western Circuit, in this, his native State. With the advantages of a fine personal appearance, a mind remarkably active, logical and penetrating, aided by a liberal education, he rose rapidly to position and distinction, in his profession. But, he was soon called, by the people, to lay aside, in a great measure, his professional pursuits, and to serve them, as he did during most of the remainder of his life, in high official positions, of great importance and responsibility.

In the Congress of the United States, where he served, during a long period of its proudest history, he not only won rank, as a man, but he exercised great control as a leader.

In the Executive chair of his State, his administration was distinguished for ability, liberality, and a vigilant attention, to all the duties imposed upon him.

Of the course of General Cobb, during the latter and more thrilling scenes, through which we have passed, I will not now speak. Justice requires that the history of these times, as it is to be transmitted to posterity, shall not be written; not the motives and conduct of men, who acted as prominent a part as did General Cobb, to be too freely criticised, till the passions and prejudices, which were engendered during the contest, have entirely subsided, and reason has resumed her sway. When posterity has seen results, the historian, with the materials, which will be preserved and placed at his command, will be able to assign his proper position, to each of the leading spirits who took part in the war, and in the Reconstruction of the Government, after the disastrous and crushing defeat of the armies of the South, and the hopeless loss of her cause.

During the high excitement of the past, and the great conflict of opinion, as to what was the best that could be done for our almost ruined section, under all the circumstances by which they were surrounded, at the close of the civil war, it was the misfortune of some us to differ widely from General Cobb, and, in the excitement of the times, when men had too little charity for each other, while sitting in judgment upon motives, those differences may, in some cases, have been productive of personal alienation, which lead to criminations and recrimination.

But, all these differences, which grew out of conflicting opinions on public policy, in times of high political excitement, and produce alienation and estrangement, are evanescent and soon pass away. In the grave they are forgotten. And when, under Divine Providence, one party precedes the other, for a little while, to that habitation which awaits all the living, they are never remembered and cherished by an honorable and generous survivor.

General Cobb was not only an honorable, upright citizen, in all the private walks of life, but he was distinguished for many noble traits of character, and many private and social virtues. In his death, Georgia has lost one of her ablest statesmen; the Bar one of its brightest ornaments; society one of its most cherished members, and his intelligent and amiable family an affectionate, kind, indulgent husband and parent.

But, relatives, friends and professional associates, as well as States and nations, must bow in submission to these afflictive dispensations of Providence, and we must all say reverently, "Thy will be done."

It affords the Court pleasure to testify their respect for the memory of General Cobb, as a distinguished member of this Bar, by directing that the preamble and resolutions be entered upon the minutes of this Court, in compliance with the request therein contained. And it is so ordered.

The Textile Fabric Exposition.

The great Exposition of Textile Fabrics at Cincinnati seems to have been a magnificent success. Among the valuable facts gleaned is the following:

It has been ascertained that there are now about 3,500 cotton and woolen manufactories in the United States, distributed as follows:

Alabama	11	Mississippi	14
California	6	Maine	100
Connecticut	284	Massachusetts	598
Delaware	19	North Carolina	40
Georgia	47	New Hampshire	150
Illinois	133	New Jersey	116
Indiana	129	New York	365
Iowa	60	Oregon	8
Kentucky	24	Ohio	175
Kansas	7	Pennsylvania	517
Maryland	35	Rhode Island	292
Michigan	55	South Carolina	40
Missouri	27	Tennessee	40
Vermont	68	Virginia	24
Wisconsin	69

To show the marvellous progress of manufactures West, the States of Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, in 1860, show 295 mills, worth $1,616,740, using $1,161,250 material, with $452,060 as the cost of labor, while, in 1868, they show 557 mills, worth $5,448,000. The largest advance has been made in Ohio, she numbering 172 mills.

Manufacturing can be done 25 per cent. cheaper in Chicago than Lowell.

Illinois surpasses in shawls; Ohio in jeans and flannels; Indiana in her cassimeres. The Tennessee sheetings and shirtings were marvellous.

To Georgia and Ohio, belonged the honor of making the largest and finest display of fabrics. Georgia's cotton goods were matchless. The following compliment was paid to Georgia:

When we consider the distance and difficulties of transportation between this city and Georgia, it is wonderful to see the enterprise of her manufacturers in sending such a line of goods to be exhibited. In proportion to the number of mills employed in the State, Georgia is more largely represented at the Exposition than any other State, and the display she makes in cotton goods, including checks, shirtings and sheetings, drills, colored cottons, &c., is one of the most surprising things to witness at the Exposition, and astonishes those who thought that the industry and manufacturing interests of the South were yet prostrate from the blows sustained during the late war.

In reference to the South, Gov. Hayes, of Ohio, made the following remarks:

He was glad to greet the citizens of the South, and know that once again the different sections of the country could unite with harmony and unity in any enterprise. He closed by assuring them that all present would ever have a hearty welcome from the State of Ohio.

Judge Storer, another speaker, used this remark, which our Southern citizens should take home especially to themselves:

His pride was humbled when he thought that they sent a pound of cotton to England and had it returned in a yard of cloth.

The mill attracting most attention was the Lawrenceburg Woolen Company's cassimeres, showing sixty different styles.

Its doeskins and fine fancy goods are so superb, that the largest dry goods house in New York, buys them from the Laurenceburg Mill and under foreign tickets, sells them regularly again to importing houses as foreign cloths. So these goods are sold at the mill at $4 50 per yard, and bought back by Western merchants for $6 00 per yard. So much for the humbug about foreign goods. These mills turn out 3,000 yards of their best cloths a week. They have a loom at the Exposition working, that runs fourteen different colored threads into the texture.

The display of jeans was fine.

The finish of these goods was unsurpassable. The Fairmount Mill of Cincinnati, and Middleport Mill excelled. These mills turn out each 1,000 yards a day. The Davenport Mills make a beautiful cassimere plaid, the first manufactured in this country.

The exhibition of wool was not large, but very fine. The exhibition of raw silk was extremely interesting.

The first day 60 carriages were provided for the guests to go over the city. George H. Pendleton's magnificent residence was visited, and they were sumptuously entertained. Mr. Pendleton was on crutches. Mr. Robert Buchanan gave them a feast of luscious fruit at his elegant park.

On the second day the guests were royally entertained at a banquet, at the Burnett House.

The following resolutions, passed by the Association, will show the spirit to the South:

Mr. Stebbins, of Detroit, also offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That we rejoice at the unexpected and varied excellence of the products sent from the South, and we welcome the presence of visitors from that region, which we trust may be an omen of growth in commercial and social intercourse, not only for the mutual benefit of our material interests, but of cordial amity and good feeling between the people of these portions of our common country.

The following were offered by Jesse McAlister, of Chicago, and were adopted with enthusiasm:

Whereas, The gratifying success of this Exposition and marked variety and excellence of the fabrics on exhibition have been materially increased by the efforts and presence of a large number of manufacturers from the Southern States, therefore,

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the sphere of usefulness of the Western Wool Association, would be most beneficially increased by such modification of its constitution and by-laws, as would admit our Southern brethren to all the rights and privileges of the Association, now enjoyed by its Western and Northwestern members.

Resolved, That we fully concur in and appreciate the efforts now being made by Southern manufacturers to co-operate with us, and shall be most happy to receive them into membership with us.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that the name of the Association should be so changed at its next annual meeting, to be holden [illegible] in February next, as to [illegible] the Southern with the North[illegible] in all the objects and [illegible]nization.

[illegible] Michigan, moved the appointment of a committee of three to visit the Southern manufacturers, who at [illegible] were holding a meeting at the Burnett House, and tender them an invitation to be present with the Association before its adjournment.

Dr. Bussey, of Columbus, Ga., was made President of the meeting of the Southerners present, and resolutions passed thanking the Cincinnatians for their kindness.

The Exposition must have the broadest results for good. The ventilation it has made of the manufacturing capacities of the South and West, the stimulus it must give to manufactures, the improvement from actual comparison of the fruits of different mills, the spirit of rivalry excited, the effect in uniting the sections, and building commercial and social intercourse, all are beneficent consequences, whose value and magnitude cannot be estimated. Such movements as these constitute the true POLITICS of this day for the South—a politics that will give us the political power and equality that we seek, quicker than anything else, as matters now stand.

Our State owes thanks to those enterprising Georgia manufacturers, who attended this Exposition with their goods.

There will be a National Exposition of the Wool Association in New York, in September, to which all of the exhibitors and guests were invited.

Fodder pulling. Corn injured by the drought.—Sandersville Georgian.

The Sandersville Georgian discusses the fence question practically, giving both sides. Its arguments against, are stronger than for the new system of fence. To fence up stock is good for their improvement, while it obviates the need of fencing out your neighbors stock. It has been tried in Alabama, found not to work well and the law repealed. It would be a hardship upon many poor men, while it would leave unused much fine pasture. It would injure sheep raising. The Georgian also denies that the revenue laws can not be peaceably enforced in Washington, and gives letters from Wm. C. Mathews, J. W. Renfroe and M. A. Wood, former and present revenue officers in Washington, stating emphatically that there has not been the slightest obstacle to their discharge of duty.

BY TELEGRAPH.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 11.—The following is telegraphed by request, and the statement is made public by permission of the President:

In an interview with Gen. Tarbell, Secretary of the Republican Executive Committee of Mississippi, at the residence of Secretary Fish, in New York, on the 6th instant, Gen. Grant remarked on the small number of Republicans engaged in the National Republican party in Mississippi, using the name of Judge Dent, and said, that in his judgment, the fact was in itself evidence that they could not be otherwise than used by the opposition. The President said his only desire was peace and amity, and that he would do anything that was right to bring that about, but that these people cast suspicions upon their own matters, by the fact that all their efforts seem to be aimed at dividing, and not aiding the Republican party in their midst. If they were really in earnest, they would not be so anxious about those with whom they acted. To sincere men, it could not be difficult to tell who in the South were and had been the administration's friends. The President stated that in his conversation with the gentlemen representing the new Republican party in Mississippi, he had expressed himself much more emphatically against their course, than he had to General Tarbell. He said he fully endorsed General Ames' administration, and that that officer would have to do much and more serious things than he had heard charged, before he would subject himself to removal.

Revenue to-day $379,000.

Canby, commanding in Virginia, and the President, had a long interview.

Spinner directs the Assistant Treasurer to withdraw the legal tender 10s, from circulation.

The speeches of Grant and the Mexican Minister, Mariscal Cardial, were mutually complimentary—not much in them.

The Mexican Claims Commission have organized, but are yet engaged on the rules of order, after which they will take several days recess.

The President has intimated, neither in conversation nor by letter, a desire that Judge Dent should withdraw from the Mississippi canvass. In view of the present complications, Judge Dent re-asserts that he will canvass the State of Mississippi in favor of a Conservative Republican candidate, whether himself or another heads the ticket.

MOBILE, ALABAMA, August 11.—David P. Reid, a prominent citizen of this city, was accused by the Radicals of firing the first shot at the Radical meeting, last Thursday night. He gave himself up for trial yesterday, and was honorably acquitted by the Mayor. Some eighteen, white and colored witnesses, of unimpeached integrity, both for the prosecution and defense, were examined, and swore positively, that Reid did not fire a shot. There was but one witness that swore that he fired a shot, and he was a negro, named Abraham Brown, and has perjured himself.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., August 11.—A petition from some of the Republicans of Mobile, was presented yesterday, to Governor Smith, asking him to place that city under martial law. But a delegation from the citizens of that place arrived here to-day, and had an interview with the Governor, which was entirely satisfactory, and resulted in his declining to place that city under military rule.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, August 11.—The Democratic Central Committee nominated Geo. H. Pendleton for Governor. He accepts the nomination.

ALBANY, N. Y., August 11.—The contending parties hold the opposite ends of the tunnel of the Susquehannah Railroad, through which cause several fights have occurred and some persons have been severely wounded. A Proclamation.

$5,000 REWARD.

GEORGIA:

By Rufus B. Bullock, Governor of said State.

WHEREAS, It has, for many days past, been currently reported that, one or more citizens of the county of Columbia had been taken from the jail of said county by members of an insurrectionary organization, and by them shot dead; and

WHEREAS, The civil authorities of said county, being overawed by, or in sympathy with, such insurrectionary organization, have failed, either through fear or through wilful neglect, to report the facts to this Department; and,

WHEREAS, Upon application to the Major General Commanding the Department of the South, I am furnished with the following extract from the report of the officer in command of the troops recently ordered to that county, to-wit:

" * * * that between the hours of 12 and "1 o'clock, A. M., July 25th, a party of armed men, "some 15 or 20 in number, rode into the village "[of Appling] and demanded the keys of the jail "from the jailor, who, (he says) refused to give "them up, until pistols were cocked, and threats "made, when he delivered them to one of the "party. The men then rode to the jail and "brought out two freedmen, prisoners, (Berry "Burnett, and his wife, Mitty Burnett), whom "they compelled to march about 200 yards from "the jail, when they fired upon and killed them.

"The parties committing this outrage were not "masked, and it was done on a moonlight night, "yet the jailor, and his son, deny that they recognized any of them. The negroes had no "other charge against them, as far as I am able "to learn at present, than resenting a blow from "their employer, a Mr. * * * * *;" and,

WHEREAS, Although the members of said insurrectionary organization must be known to many of the good citizens of the said county of Columbia, yet no arrests have been made in the instance herein recited.

Now, THEREFORE, to the end that no reasonable excuse may exist for a failure on the part of the civil authorities to break up and disband said insurrectionary organization, and bring to speedy and condign punishment, such of its members as were engaged in this most atrocious murder, I RUFUS B. BULLOCK, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of this State, and of the Militia thereof, have thought proper to issue this, my proclamation, hereby offering a for the apprehension and conviction of the party, or parties, committing this murder:

And I do moreover charge and require all civil officers of this State, to be vigilant in endeavoring to apprehend the said party, or parties; and further, I do hereby give due and official notice to the civil authorities of the said county of Columbia, that the Military forces of the United States stationed in said county, will aid them in every way in their power, in maintaining the supremacy of the civil law, and in breaking up the aforementioned insurrectionary organization, to the end that the innocent may be protected in the full enjoyment of their rights as citizens, and that the violators of the law may be speedily brought to trial and punishment.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the Capitol in Atlanta, this 9th day of August, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Nine, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the Ninety-Fourth.

RUFUS B BULLOCK, Governor.

GORDON CO., GA., June 28th 1869.

Messrs. ADAIR & BRO., Atlanta, Ga.:

GENTLEMEN—We received yours a few days since, requesting a statement of the merits of the Gullett Gin purchased of you last year. I have to say of this Gin, that it is decidedly the best Gin of which we have any knowledge. The workmanship of the machine is very superior, every part of it being made with great care, and the boxes and shafts being set in a cast iron frame, admitting of no springing or working. It runs with a smoothness and nicety seldom attained in such machines. The improvements of this Gin are: 1st, it takes the dirt and trash out of the cotton. 2d, it, by means of the steel brush wheel, combs out the lint, and renders the fibre much longer than the ordinary gin, or, at least, makes the cotton show a much longer fibre. These two improvements gives cotton ginned on this Gin, we think, fully the advantage of 1½ cents per pound in value over cotton of the same kind ginned on the ordinary gin; and when the cotton in the seed is very trashy and dirty, or contains a great many hard locks, it may add more to the market value of the lint. We could perceive no difference between the draught of this Gin and the old one we replaced by it, of the same number of saws. The Gullett Gin certainly deserves the attention of planters.

Very respectfully.
J. C. & R. GARLINGTON.

Supreme Court—Evening Session—Wednesday, August 11, 1869.—Argument was resumed by Mr. Dougherty, in Jones vs. the Macon and Brunswick Railroad Company. He was replied to by Judge Nesbit, who had not finished when the time for adjournment arrived.

By request of members of the Bar, the Reporter stated to the Court their wish to have it dispense with, or shorten its morning consultations, so as to have the Court close this week. The Court declined doing so. And adjourned till 10 o'clock A. M., to-morrow.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—Messrs. Wallace & Fowler, sold yesterday, one-third of an acre lot on the corner of McDaniel and Whitehall streets to Mrs. Georgia Ann Park, for $800 cash.

A NOVEL CIRCUMSTANCE.—We learn that a white woman on Decatur street gave birth, not long since, to twins—both boys—one white and one colored. The reputed father is a scalawag!

A FREE TRANSLATION.—In the City Hall the words "sic itur ad astra" may be seen on the walls. During the session of the Educational Convention yesterday, a gentleman rendered the following free translation of it: "Sic(k) it u Rad as Tra(y)."

BE PROMPT.—We trust that the members of the Educational Convention will meet promptly at 9 o'clock this morning, and avoiding long, dry speeches, go to work in earnest. A general desire has been expressed to hear Gen. Gordon this morning on the subject of Common School Education. Perhaps, the desire may be gratified.

PERSONAL.—Among the members of the bar present yesterday at the Supreme Court, we were glad to grasp by the hand our time-honored friend, Hon. E. A. Nisbet, and pleased to see that though time has left its impress upon his cheek, it has not dimmed his intellect, or checked the lofty patriotism and ardor of his soul. We also had the pleasure of meeting with Hon. L. N. Whittle, whose active intellect and strong impulses are ever on the side of Truth and Right.

THE EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION.—Among the delegates in attendance on this important body yesterday, we were pleased to meet with Prof. Martin V. Calvin, of Augusta, a young man of rare promise; Prof. I. S. T. Hopkins, and President G. J. Orr, Rev. A. Means, L.L.D., of Oxford; Profs. J. M. Bonnell, and W. D. Williams, of Macon; B. Mallon, Savannah; Prof. J. E. Willett, and President H. H. Tucker, of Penfield; and other gentlemen engaged in the cause of education. Much regret was expressed at the absence of Prof. W. Leroy Brown, who was prevented from attending by official duties.

IN compliance with the request of the Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, that a week, beginning August 13th, should be devoted to fervent prayer, and public worship throughout our bounds: We, the Pastors of the M. E. C., S., of this city, will unite in conducting Divine service at Wesley Chapel, from the 13th to the 20th, inst., inclusive. Service each day at 9 o'clock, A. M., and at 8 o'clock, P. M. All who desire to see the cause of God prosper, are invited to co-operate with us. Let the aged and the young, parents and children, meet at the mercy seat, to supplicate the blessing of God upon the Church and country.

GEORGIA EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION. The Convention met at 3 o'clock, yesterday afternoon.

Dr. S. H. Stout, of Atlanta, was elected a member.

A letter was read from Prof. W. Rutherford, of Athens, relative to examination of Mathematical works.

On motion, Prof. W. Rutherford, G. J. Orr, and J. A. Richardson, were appointed a committee to examine Mathematical works.

Prof. J. E. Willett, submitted a report on "text books and Natural sciences." Referred to G. J. Orr, Mark Johnson and W. M. Bray, to report this morning.

Rev. W. L. Mansfield, related his experience in teaching children in indigent circumstances.

Rev. O. Rockwell, and C. J. Woodbury, were elected members

Prof. J. M. Bonnell moved to take up the resolution offered by himself in the morning, to appoint a committee of five to report at next annual meeting, on the practicability and expediency of combining the colleges and high schools of leading religious denominations in one harmonious system, with the State University, to secure the permanence, efficiency, and the highest measure of usefulness for each and all.

Prof. Bonnell supported the motion in an able and cogent manner.

Dr. S. H. Stout thought the resolution impracticable.

The resolution was adopted, and Prof. J. M. Bonnell, S. H. Stout, W. W. Lumpkin, A. G Haygood and Mark Johnson were appointed a committee to report at the next annual meeting.

Prof. G. J. Orr offered the following resolution, which at his suggestion, was laid on the table for future discussion:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to report on the best plan of providing education for the masses, both white and colored, the report to be first submitted to the Executive Committee for their approval, and by them transmitted to the Legislature, with a request for its adoption by that body.

Rev. W. C. Wilkes offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to consider, and propose measures for enlarging the efficiency of this body, and for making its meetings more interesting to the Teachers of Georgia.

The Chair appointed as that Committee, Rev. W. C. Wilkes, W. Bush, M. D. Wood, H. F. Hoyt, and C. A. Kendrick.

On motion of President Orr, a committee of three was appointed to suggest subjects on which committees shall be appointed to report at next meeting.

Committee: G. J. Orr, H. F. Hoyt, and M. Worthen.

On motion of Col. D. W. Lewis, the members indulged in a colloquial exchange of suggestions and practical remarks.

Convention adjourned until nine o'clock A. M to-morrow.

In the report of the morning's session, several inaccuracies occurred.

The following in it should read thus: While the committee were out, the Convention was addressed in an able and eloquent manner by Rev. Dr. Means, in behalf of liberal education, and enlarged educational facilities.

THE KU-KLUX DISCOVERED—Raw Head and Bloody Bones.—The following historic document directed to "all unto whom these PRESENTS shall come Greeting," come to THE CONSTITUTION without a single present, (knowing we were not Grant, we suppose), having been consigned to the streets, and picked up by a curious gentleman, fond of antiquities.

It may not be uninteresting as a part of the history of the times, or of Atlanta's growth. We have speculated much upon it. We have opined that it may be the Deed of Sale to the "Atlanta Slander Mill." There is wide room for conjecture, to which we consign it.

It looks in personal appearance as if it might be a cross between a diploma, a mortgage, a constables' commission, and Costars Rat Exterminator; Supplement to some newspaper. It has a dangerous looking hieroglyph spraddled out at its head, with the awful Ku-Klux letters, B. S. N., mixed up toddy fashion with some cantankerous looking bayonets, dove-tailed into an amiable cannon, calmy sandwiched in an African looking anchor: while just below on a loyal flag two savage swords lie ominously on an open book, while three other of the most mysterious and truculent ku-klux concerns—G. A. R.—stand triangularly around the "A" ignominiously undermost.

We wonder if we have struck the genuine veritable ku-klux.

National Encampment, Grand Army of the Republic.—To all unto whom these Presents may come Greeting: Know ye, that we, by virtue of the authority conferred upon us by the Regulations of the Grand Army of the Republic, reposing especial trust and confidence in the patriotism and fidelity of W. H. Watson, R. W. A. Wilds, P. W. Parks, Patrick Keiff, C. W. Sherwood, H. E. Jones, B. G. Parks, John Tweedie and James E. Dawes, their associates and successors, do hereby constitute them a Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, at Atlanta, Georgia, to be known as Post No. 2, Department of Georgia, and do authorize and empower them to perform all acts in accordance with, and subordinate to the Regulations of the Grand Army of the Republic. They will yield implicit obedience to all lawful Orders, Rules and Regulations prescribed for their guidance, and to all officers elected or appointed over them, and will be entitled to all the rights and privileges, and subject to all the responsibilities, pains and penalties of Comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Done at the Headquarters of the National Encampment Grand Army of the Republic, in the city of Washington, D. C., on the twenty-third day of July, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Eight, and of our Independence the Ninety Second.

NORTON P. CHIPMAN, Adjutant General.

A NEW AND BEAUTIFUL BOOK—Night Scenes in the Bible. By Rev. Daniel March, D. D., author of "Walks and Homes of Jesus." Zeigler, McCurdy & Co.: Philadelphia.

This is one of the most interesting and superb contributions to sacred literature that we have seen for many a day. It is a volume of about five hundred and fifty pages, devoted exclusively to the events of Scripture that occurred at night, which are presented with great force of language and beauty of imagery. The work is elegantly illustrated with steel plates by the best of American artists, which give to it additional value, while the remainder of the mechanical work and material is of the most elegant description. It is a charming book to read, and no more elegant ornament for the parlor table or library, has gone from the American press.

"The Night Scenes" is issued only to subscribers, and therefore will not be found in the bookstores. The Rev. Mr. Eaton, agent for the State of Georgia, is now in Atlanta, and will call upon our citizens in the interest of his beautiful work.

The undersigned Pastors of churches, in the city of Atlanta, having examined, with some attention, the "Night Scenes of the Bible," by Rev. Daniel March, do not hesitate to recommend it as a volume of no ordinary interest and value. Pure in its spirit, attractive in style, free from sectarian bias, full of good, sound religious instruction, it is a book that must do good, and cannot fail to extend, and deepen an interest in the study of the Sacred Scriptures. In mechanical execution, it is a work of great beauty. We predict for it a wide circulation, and cordially commend it to the members and families of our respective congregations:

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR Medicine for Dyspepsia, Head ache Jaundice, Costiveness, Camp Dysentery, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhoea, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fever, Nervousness, hills, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood Melancholy or Depression of Spirits.

Most of the ailments here enumerated have their origin in a diseased liver, which is the most prevalent affection in this country, and as in many cases the patient is not within the reach of a physician, it requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be active and safe. That such is the character of the SIMMONS REGULATOR there can be no doubt, which the testimony of hundreds will establish.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED LIVER.

Pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade is mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when few of them existed, yet examination of the body after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the foregoing symptoms appear. It is a purely vegetable compound, is not injurious to the most delicate constitutions, and will keep the liver in healthy action if used properly.

Persons living in unhealthy localities may avoid all bilious attacks by taking a dose occasionally to keep the liver in healthy action.

Regulator. For children complaining of colic, headache, or sick stomach a teaspoonful or more will give relief. Children, as well as adults, eat sometimes too much supper, or eat something which does not digest well, producing sour stomach, heart-burn, or restlessness; a good dose will give relief. This applies to persons of all ages.

Many persons, from eating too much, are restless at night, or in day time fidgety, wool-gathering, can't understand what they read, can't keep their thoughts on any one subject so as to reason well, or become fretful. One or two tablespoonful will give relief.

Jaundice.—Take enough Regulator after eating each meal to produce one full action from the bowels every day.

Pregnant ladies will find sure relief from their headache, cos.iveness, swimming in the head, colic, sour stomach, restlessness, etc., etc.

CONTINUES to treat all private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects: as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, constipation, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, noctural emissions, and finally prostration of the vital powers, can be fully restored to health. Persons afflicted with this, or any other delicate, intricate, or long standing constitutional complaint, should give the Doctor a trial. He never fails.

The Doctor publishes a medical circular that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at his office, or by mail for one stamp. It gives a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the infringement of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposures and imprudences in married or single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others, daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own Laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlet at office free or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. DR. JOHN BULL'S Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,
Manufacturer and Vendor of the Celebrated

Smith's Tonic Syrup,

FOR THE CURE OF
AGUE AND FEVER,
—OR—
Chills and Fever.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and andSouthwestern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

Bull's Worm Destroyer.

To my United States and World-wide Readers.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER:

VILLANOW, Walker Co., Ga., June 29, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line M. D.'s, but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms. I am, sir, most respectfully.
JULIUS P. CLEMENT M. D

Bull's Sarsaparilla

A Good Reason for the Captain's Faith.

READ THE CAPTAIN'S LETTER AND THE LETTER FROM HIS MOTHER.

BENTON BARRACK'S, Mo., April 30, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.

I was wounded two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not set up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I wish that that is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige.
Capt. C. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 30, 1865, by Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Captain Johnson:

DR. BULL—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. S Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died leaving the above C P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhœa and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla. IT CURED HIM. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio and Iowa, for scrofula, fever scores and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence his writing to you for it. His wounds were terrible, but I believe he will recover.
Respectfully, JENNIE JOHNSON

BULL'S CEDRON BITTERS

AUTHENTIC DOCUMENT.

ARKANSAS HEARD FROM.

Testimony of Medical Men

STONEY POINT, White Co., Ark., May 23, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Last February I was in Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters.

My son-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and soon found his general health improved.

Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried them, and he also improved.

Dr. Coffee, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters. Indeed, the Cedron Bitters has given you great popularity in this settlement. I think I could sell a great quantity of your medicines this fall, especially of your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship me via Memphis, care Rickett & Neely.

REAL ESTATE AGENT,
ATLANTA, GA.

I HAVE taken an office with Col. George N. Lester, State Commissioner of Land and Immigration, and have made arrangements by which the titles to all real estate sold by me will be examined and approved by him. He will also see that all conveyancing done through my office is in proper and legal form. Persons having real estate in the city or elsewhere for sale, would do well to place it in my hands, as this arrangement gives me unusual facilities for effecting a ready and profitable sale.

MUTUAL FIRE AND LIFE
Insurance Company,
MACON, GA.

Authorized Capital::::$500,000!

Certificate of authority issued by the Comptroller General, under Act of March 19, 1869, requiring one hundred thousand dollars capital.

COL. W. J. LAWTON, President, J. C. McBURNEY, Vice Pres't,
R. J. LIGHTFOOT, Secretary.

This Company is now prepared to issue all classes of Policies. In the Life Department it offers more liberal terms than any other company in this country.

It asks particular attention to the following prominent features:

1. It is a Home Company—a Southern Company, owned and managed by as able financiers as our State can produce.

2. All its policies are non-forfeiting, and so long as one dollar of premiums or dividends remain in the hands of the Company unearned, so long is the policy kept alive.

3. Its policies are incontestible, except for fraud.

4. Its policies contain no restrictions of either travel or occupation, and world-wide in its fullest sense.

5. As low a rate of premium as a due regard to safety will permit, and will compare with any other Mutual Company.

6. Thirty days grace allowed upon payment of renewal premiums, and the policy held good for that time.

7. One-half the premium remains a permanent loan on the policy, at legal interest, which loan it is confidently expected will be extinguished by dividends.

8. It is a Mutual Company; all the profits equitably divided among its policy holders.

9. Dividends declared annually, upon the contribution plan.

10. Females insured at same rates as males.

Feeling assured that the above features must commend this Company to the favorable consideration of the public, we respectfully ask an investigation of its merits, by those contemplating insurance, satisfied that we offer greater inducements than any other Company now extant.

Able Solicitors and local Agents wanted all over the country. Address,

ATLANTA, GEORGIA::::AUGUST 11.

THE GIRL WITH THE CALICO DRESS.

A fig for your ripple-ton girls,
With their velvet and satins and lace,
Their diamonds and rubies and pearls,
And their milliner figures and faces;
They may shine at a party or ball,
Emblazoned with half they possess;
But give me, in place of them all,
My girl with the calico dress.

She is plump as a partridge, and fair
As the rose in its earliest bloom;
Her teeth will with ivory compare,
And her breath with the clover perfume;
Her step is as free and as light
As the fawn whom the hunters hard press,
And her eyes are as soft and as bright—
My girl with the calico dress.

She is cheerful, warm-hearted and true,
And is kind to her father and mother;
She studies how much she can do
For her sweet little sister and brother;
If you want a companion for life,
To comfort, enliven and bless,
She is just the right sort of a wife—
My girl with the calico dress.

COL. AVERY—Dear Sir: The regular Term of the Superior Court is now in session, His Honor Judge Parrot presiding. A large number of lawyers, clients, etc., being in attendance. Judge Parrot by his prompt and impartial bearing in his official capacity, has become popular.

Your former townsman, Solicitor Broyles is on hand, and looks as gay and independent as an old wharf rat, and seems not to care if corn was forty dollars a barrel.

Jobe's Hotel is thronged with visitors, and looks well to the comfort of his guests in attending to the wants of the inner man. Success to friend Jobe.

Right in full view, a little to the left of this pleasant little village, is the precise location where the lamented Gen. Pat. Cleburn struck the Federal army a heavy blow.

The Daily and Weekly CONSTITUTION is well received, and is worthy of patronage. It has a larger circulation here than any other paper in the State.

BRAN NEW LETTERS!!

FRESH TESTIMONIALS!

DARBY'S PROPHPLACTIC FLUID!

THE ASTONISHING

Family Medicine!!!

Saved from Death---Read!

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 28 1869.

MESSRS. J. DARBY & Co., 161 William street, New York—Gents: Yours, of the 23d, is before me and has attention. It gives me pleasure to say, that my belief is, that your "Fluid," under the supervision of a kind Providence, saved the life of my youngest child, some six years ago. The child being wasted to a skeleton, by the effects of teething, and an affection of the bowels therewith. I had never seen any one reduced so low to recover. "Physic" had been tried in vain, until the Physicians stated it was useless. A friend recommended your "Fluid," or ozone, which he stated was one of the component parts of it. I did so, and the effect was like magic, plainly discernable in one hour, in its good effects, producing quiet and sleep almost at once, where irritation and sleepless restlessness had previously possessed the child to nearly entire exhaustion.

I at first administered it in a small way, 2 and 3 drops in a spoonful of water, and increased it to 6 and 10 drops. It completely choked the bowels, and had the happiest effect, the child rapidly recovering.

I have tried your "Fluid," on animals, with the same effect; both horses and cows, mingling more or less in water, and letting them drink.

I have no hesitation in saying, I believe it a specific for Chronic Diarrhœa, or any violent affection of the bowels.

I would not be without it in my family, under any consideration.

Yours, truly, WILLIAM FOWLER.

Mr. Fowler is a member of the celebrated Banking House of Fowler & Somerville, Montgomery, Alabama.

AND AGAIN!

Read the following letter from Mr. Frank Saunders, a well-known citizen, and brother-in-law of the beloved Bishop Paine, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South:

189 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, July 29, 1869.

MESSRS. J. DARBY & Co., 161 WILLIAM STREET, NEW YORK—Gents: About the 10th of June last, one of my children was taken with Scarlet Fever, in its most malignant form, and as soon as I could I procured your valuable disinfectant, "Darby's Prophylactic Fluid." Although it was several days after the appearance of the disease before I began using the Fluid, still, by a free use of it, the disease was not only confined to the one case, but the malignity of that case somewhat mitigated.

During the use of the Fluid, as a disinfectant, in my family it was also, tried in a case of headache, and one of toothache, the results in each case being instantaneous relief. It was afterwards tried in a case of Erysipelas, with almost equal success.

It is due to the merits of this compound, also, to state, that the case of Erysipelas in question, being located in the feet, the Fluid, in its application, was brought in frequent contact with a troublesome corn, on one of the feet, to the utter discomfiture of said corn; for, upon subsequent examination, it had disappeared, and though it was sought for diligently, it could not be found.

I hand you this, hoping it may be the means of inducing others of earth's poor sufferers, to test for themselves, as I did, the great merits of this great remedy.

Very respectfully, yours,
FRANK SAUNDERS.

Never was a medicine so universally esteemed and extolled. It never fails. It may be depended on.

"THE UTLEY COTTON PRESS."

A new invention of power whereby all friction is overcome. The simplicity, economy and durability of this Press astonishes all who see it, and the more so, that a power so simple should so long have been unappropriated. The strain is wholly upon two (2) Iron Bars 1¼ inches square, operating on these bars as if two men were pulling at each end in contrary direction, which will sustain a strain of 190,000 pounds each. With this Press two men can do all the packing or pressing of a 500 pound bale inside of eight minutes, and if need be, one man can operate, only requiring more time. This Press will not occupy more space than a Piano, and can be placed under the Gin and receive the Cotton direct from the Gin, thus doing away with Lint Rooms, and can be readily taken down and transported as it is simple and light. We can supply these Presses cheaper than any yet offered. Will send circulars to any desiring, and would advise all wanting Presses to withhold buying until they examine this. We will, at an early day, have one on exhibition in Atlanta, when it can be seen.
